

Environmental Studies in Woods Hole & at Sea

Sea Education Association | SEA Semester • P.O. Box 6 • Woods Hole, MA 02543 • 800.552.3633 • www.sea.edu

Social Sciences Faculty Member

December 2014: Sea Education Association (SEA), www.sea.edu, a non-profit educational institution located in Woods Hole, Massachusetts, invites applications for a full-time 9-month faculty position at the assistant or associate professor level in Social Sciences. SEA offers innovative undergraduate programs (SEA Semester®) which combine marine sciences, leadership training, history and policy in an interdisciplinary study of the ocean and its relation to society. We are seeking candidates who possess strong training in public policy and history and particularly welcome applicants with significant experiences or training in: Anthropology; Policy History; Maritime History; and Atlantic, Caribbean, or Pacific Studies.

The successful candidate will have the desire to join and contribute to a deeply committed educational community and to pursue a professional agenda of innovative interdisciplinary teaching and excellent scholarship, working in a team with a marine scientist/oceanographer and nautical science instructor/licensed captain for 12 weeks on shore and at sea. A Ph.D. in a relevant field is required.

The position is a renewable appointment for nine months of work over a twelve-month period, involving approximately 14 weeks per year sea service with the remaining 25 weeks of work based in Woods Hole (Falmouth), MA.

A review of applications will begin on February 1, 2015, and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, one-page statement of teaching philosophy, and the names and contact information for three professional references. Email materials to MSSearch@sea.edu. Questions about this position may also be sent to this email address.

Salary includes a competitive benefits package. SEA is an Equal Opportunity Employer.