Protecting wetlands, open space and biological diversity through education and advocacy

MACC is a coalition of the municipal Conservation Commissions throughout the Commonwealth and is a 501 (c) (3) environmental organization. We are dedicated to promoting conservation of wetlands and other water resources, community acquisition and stewardship of open space, and preservation of biodiversity. Founded in 1961, MACC provides educational programs and services for the citizen volunteers who serve their communities as Conservation Commissioners, Commission staff, and other citizen volunteers. MACC works collaboratively with federal and state agencies, land trusts, watershed associations, other non-profits, and individual citizens for effective conservation and stewardship.
