

Mashpee Land Stewards

2013 Lecture Series

Presents

Michael Talbot (Talbot Ecological Land Care)

Ecological Landscaping: Bringing the Beauty and Serenity of Nature to the Home Garden

Tuesday, April 2nd at 7:00 p.m

Mashpee Town Hall Main Conference Room.

Your landscape can be so much easier to maintain, while you can add color, beauty and interest year-round. Come and learn how to gradually or dramatically transform your outdoor living spaces into reflections of nature while attracting birds, butterflies and other wildlife. An “ecological landscape” also is safer for your family and pets and better protects the fragile environment of the Cape and the Islands. Michael Talbot lectures throughout the Eastern United States on topics such as Ecological Landscape Design, Lawn and Land Care; but he lives in Mashpee and does much of his work right here on Cape Cod and southeastern Mass. He has appeared on the Victory Garden and many other radio and television programs, and is the author of numerous articles and publications. For this evening, though, he looks forward to sharing his ideas with his friends and neighbors on the Cape.

For more info, please contact the Mashpee Conservation Dept at 508-539-1400 X8539 or amcmanus@mashpeema.gov