

NEOSEC

New England
Ocean Science
Education Collaborative

2014 Ocean Literacy Summit

The ocean and humans are inextricably interconnected

November 6 - 7, Woods Hole, MA

REGISTRATION NOW OPEN!

Join us on November 6 & 7 2014, when the New England Ocean Science Education Collaborative will present its 5th biennial Ocean Literacy Summit, hosted by Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution and supported by Marine Biological Laboratory. This two day event will feature new discoveries and research in New England waters and will provide scientists and educators the opportunity to connect and explore the goal of advancing ocean literacy!

Thursday, November 6th

Evening reception and exhibits

Presentation by Synergy

Friday, November 7th

Keynote address by Deborah Cramer

Author of "Smithsonian Ocean", Advisory Council Stellwagen Bank National Marine Sanctuary, Visiting Scholar MIT Earth System Initiative

Concurrent Sessions, Panel Discussion, Field Trips, and Lab Visits

NEOSEC is a collaboration of more than 50 institutions from across New England, including aquariums, museums, universities, government entities, and science and research centers, working collectively to advance ocean literacy.

To register, or for more information, visit: www.neosec.org

Email any questions to:
sbursky@neaq.org