

SAVE THE DATE

There's a Scientist in my Classroom!

22 October 2015

Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution

The first There's a Scientist in my Classroom! in Woods Hole will take place on October 22, 2015 at the campus of Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution. Following the format of previous meetings at MIT in Cambridge, MA, this workshop will provide a space for K-12 teachers from the Falmouth (and surrounding) area to meet graduate students and scientists from the Woods Hole Consortium and discuss opportunities for collaboration in the classroom.

Stay tuned for registration details in September.

Contact: Megan May (mmay@whoi.edu)
Lauren Kipp (lkipp@whoi.edu)
Sarah Rosengard (srosengard@whoi.edu)

Sponsored by the Broader Impacts Group. For more information, visit:
<http://www.whoi.edu/website/big/home>