

Does your old sign look like this?

Get a free new one!

Email: gberman@whoi.edu

Heading to the beach?
Be kind to the dune plants!

Dune plants provide a first line of defense against storm waves and flooding. By trapping wind-blown sand, dune plants help build and stabilize the dunes. They also provide important habitat for many birds and other animals.

Although dune plants are tolerant of some trampling, they can't withstand the pounding of foot and vehicle traffic.

Protect the plants.
Use designated access ways.

